FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

THE POE MUSEUM'S 2018 PRESERVATION PROJECT

Exciting changes coming to the Edgar Allan Poe Museum in Richmond

Feb. 2, 2018, Richmond, VA - From February 11th until February 28th, The Edgar Allan Poe Museum in Richmond, Virginia will be operating within a “limited capacity” to take care of much-needed repairs to our historic Old Stone House as well as a general update of our exhibition layouts to enhance visitor experiences.

This means that both the Old Stone House (housing our gift shop and main entrance) and the Model Building will be closed to the public for these repairs, leaving both our Memorial Building, Exhibits Building, and the Shrine open for visitors as normal.

We will continue to welcome our visitors throughout the month of February. The Poe Museum will be offering free admission with a suggested donation of $5.00 with guests being able to enter our Memorial Building and Exhibits Building, both containing engaging exhibits pertaining to Poe's life and legacy. Additionally, the museum will be offering various programming such as live readings, interactive sessions with our curator and artifacts, and more.

More information about The Poe Museum's 2018 Preservation Project is available online at poemuseum.org/preservation2018.
